New Trees for Old.

A skillful tree surgeon has succeeded in saving valuable pear trees whose roots blight had destroyed, by grafting to the trunks healthy young suckers. These are set in the ground about the diseased trees, while the upper ends are grafted into the trunks.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Fine for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every home. 30c and 60c.—Advertisement.

SELF HELPS FOR THE NEW SOLDIER

Practical Home Hints on Military Training That Will Stand You in Good Stead When You Are Called to the Colors

By A UNITED STATES ARMY OFFICER

HOW AND WHY THE SOLDIER CHANGES STEP AND DIRECTION.

The 30-inch step—known as "quick time"—is the basis of all military movement. Nevertheless, a soldier should be no more absolutely confined to this step than a baseball player is to, say, base-running. Otherwise, a soldier could not charge. Otherwise, every maneuver above a given gait would be impossible, and all that would be necessary for an enemy to do would be to execute his own operations just a trifle faster. By that simple means he could "smear" his opponent's tactics like a fullback, wrecking an interference.

For this reason "double time" is provided. The "double time" step (there is no "double-quick") is 36 inches. It is executed at a cadence of 180 steps a minute. In substance, it is a jog-trot, enabling a command to be shifted rapidly, but in order.

There is, in addition, the "rout step," for the march, whereby each man can take the step which suits him best; yet after long training in the "quick time," he will find that his rout step will approximate that measure. There is also the "half step," 15 inches in quick time, 18 in double time.

At the command of "charge!" either from a standing position, the quick step or double time, the soldier breaks into a full run, in which the step is governed only by the reach of his legs. For the same reasons that all military movements cannot be reduced to a single cadence, it is no more practicable to limit a soldier to a single direction of advance. For this, the soldier is taught the side step and the back step, the "left face," "right face" and "about face."

The side step, under the command "right step," consists of carrying the right 15 inches to the right and bringing the left foot up beside it until commanded to "halt!"

"Left step" is, of course, the reverse of "right step." The back step is executed by taking steps 15 inches to rear at the command, "Backward, march!" and continuing until brought to a halt. The side step and the back step are almost invariably confined to short distances, and employed for the purpose of dressing a line. All steps, except "right step," begin with the left foot.

The facings "right," "left," and "about" are executed from the position of attention. In "right face," raise the left heel and the right toe slightly; face to the right, turning on the right heel, assisted by a slight pressure on the ball of the left foot; place the left foot by the side of the right. The "left face" is the converse of this movement. "Right (left) half face" is executed similarly to an angle of 45 degrees.

"About face" consists in carrying the toe of the right foot a half-foot length to the rear and slightly to the left of the left heel without changing the position of the left foot; face to the rear, turning to the right on the left heel and right toe; place the right heel by the side of the left.

Advice Old but Still Good.

Cato recommended that the soil of a farm be good and fertile; also that near it there be plenty of laborers and that it be not far from a large town, moreover that it have sufficient means of transporting its produce, either by water or land. This advice, although 2,000 years old, still holds good.

Place for Him.

Denny, aged six, was in the first grade. His teacher asked him what he was going to do during vacation. "I am going to join the army," he replied. "You can't, because you are only an infant," she told him. "Well, then, I'll join the infantry."

May Give Language to World.

Our language has been modified by the multiplicity of tongues of those who have come to our shores, and to this extent we have been automatically developing the speech which has in it the elements of universality. There never has been and there may never be a speech suited to all the races, but America, with over a hundred millions of people speaking the one tongue and with a great commercial future before it, may carry that tongue to the ends of the earth. As the land of adoption of so many millions of Europe, its distinctive speech may present less objections to the peoples of Europe than that of England. Much will depend upon how distinctive it becomes and how well it serves the purposes of direct expression.

Charitable Mason.

G. F. Townsend, a Santa Ana pioneer, who died there recently, left a memorial behind him of no mean character. He left $10,000 to be placed at interest for thirty years, by which time it will have reached a sum of $160,000. At the end of that period the will provides that the trustees purchase a good tract of land and erect thereon a home for indigent members of the Masonic lodge to which the deceased belonged, and other members of the order. The man who bequeathed this fund for such an excellent purpose was not rich, the estate subject to probate being $100,000.—Los Angeles Times.

Hubby's Comment.

"John, that man actually swore at me."
"He did. How brave a man is when he's not married to the woman."

Easy Trail.

"Did you see where the government has unearthed an onion trust?"
"Yes; how do you suppose they got scent of it?"

Dutiful.

Our idea of a dutiful daughter crystallized into definite form yesterday when we saw a blooming young matron of this neighborhood stand by with an air of quiet resignation and exemplary patience while her mother did undoubtedly kindly intended things to the baby.—Columbus (O.) Journal.

DEER ATTACK FARMER'S WIFE

Hungry Animals Drive Woman Into House When She Tries to Prevent Them From Eating Tablecloth.

Deer are so numerous in the mountain region about Allamuchy that they are a menace to the farmers and their wives. Mrs. William Crown, living in the Old Dark Moon road, back of Allamuchy, pinned her best tablecloth out on the clothesline in the yard and in half an hour was surprised and pained to see three deer eating it greedily. The tablecloth was ornamented with a design of green leaves, says a Newton (N. J.) dispatch in the New York Herald.

Mrs. Crown fought the deer off with a stout stick, but after a spell they returned with three other companions, and the six animals attacked her and she ran into the house. They finished the tablecloth in peace and were fighting among themselves for the line when Mr. Crown returned and went at them with a piece of burning newspaper.

Most women in that section want permission to shoot the deer, and won't hang out clothes unless their husband's are around to drive away the animals.

ALUMINUM IS USED IN SHOES

Increased Service Secured by Making Parts Most Subject to Wear Out of the Metal.

Owing to the increase in the cost of leather, which has been on the upward trend for many years, there has been a demand for some substitute that will take its place to a certain extent in the manufacture of shoes, and in some parts of the country there has been received with favor a shoe partly made of aluminum, says the Toronto Star.

The use of leather is not dispensed with entirely, but the sole and counter, the parts most subject to wear, are made of the metal. The hard usage of shoes comes on the heel and sole, and in the case of aluminum the wearer walks on the heel and a rocker, across the sole of the shoe, which parts are renewable and may be readily replaced without sending the shoes to the shoemaker.

The new shoes are no heavier than those of leather, and are said to be much more economical on account of the increased service secured.

INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY.

Here is a suggestion for some live city, whereby two factories may be obtained. At the present time the ukulele craze is sweeping this country. Any city, by a little scouting, can get a factory for the manufacture of ukuleles. Such an institution would be forced to run day and night to fill orders. All ukuleles have to be tested and tuned before leaving the factory. This would mean ukulele music all day and all night. To combat that, there should be a factory for the manufacture of ear muffs, to be worn by the long-suffering people of the community. The ukulele would be shipped away and the ear muffs would be used by the home people.—Exchange.

THE CURE.

"So you've given up smoking?"
"Yes."
"What cured you?"
"The conversation in smoking cars."

CRITICAL.

"What is your husband's business, may I ask?" said Mrs. Nibb.
"He is a critic," said Mrs. Hardlife, with a sigh, "and I am the cause of most of his criticisms."

IMPROVES THE STORY.

Milly—A good story always bears repeating.
Billy—Yes; especially if it is told to you as a secret.

VIEWPOINT.

"Is farming hard work?"
"That depends. If you live in the country it is; if you live in the city it isn't."

MILITARY NOISES.

"What a racket! What is all that noise in the garden?"
"I guess it's the trumpet flower you hear."

SELF-ANNOUNCED.

Neighbor—I hear you have a baby at your house.
Jones—Yes. Who told you?
Neighbor—The baby.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—which vary widely but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gout, gravel disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart debility, drowsiness and dropsy. But if you keep the filters right the danger is overcome. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

Mrs. Sanders Johnson, 222 E. Eighteenth St., Hopkinsville, says: "Last summer, I had an attack of kidney trouble and suffered greatly with my back. I felt dull and languid, too and could hardly keep going because my back was so sore and lame. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. This medicine rid me of the backaches and brought improvement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Johnson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Rural Store Philosopher.

To deride the whittlers and the grocery store philosophers shows intolerance. In these days of quick locomotion and communication our mental processes have speeded up until the leisurely discussions of the old-fashioned days are apt to be laughed at, says the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times. But the scoffer may find by a tour of investigation, especially among country town stores that keep open in the evening and are heated with a coal stove, that soap boxes and backless chairs may be the seats of the elect. That is, in the argumentative circle are to be found very often the thinkers of a small community, compelled to make the corner store their club, with a membership truly representative of the great common people. Lincoln had many of the characteristics of the rural store philosopher and he never despised, rather valued, humble American opinion. Conclusions reached around the stove aren't always so far wrong.

A Long Wait.

According to a German scientist, a particle of water evaporated from the ocean is condensed and returns in ten days, but it remains there 3,400 days before being evaporated again.
